

CONTENTS

About This Book	xi
CHAPTER 1: BASIC CONSIDERATIONS IN MATERIALS DESIGN AND EVALUATION	1
A Materials Selection Dilemma	1
Some Challenging Questions	2
Materials, Resources, Technology, and Medium: Some Definitions	3
Authentic Materials	3
Selecting Published Materials	4
Teacher-Made Materials	5
Student-Generated Materials	5
Selecting Materials for Your Syllabus	5
Selecting Materials to Support Topics or Themes	7
Criteria for Developing and Evaluating Materials	9
CHAPTER 2: TEXTBOOKS	11
A Teacher's Tale	11
Some Challenging Questions	12
Textbooks as Language Teaching Materials	13
The Advantages and Disadvantages of Textbooks in Language Teaching	13
The Uses of Textbooks in Language Teaching	14
Criteria for Textbook Selection	14
Assessing the Syllabus in a Textbook	15
Assessing Methodology in Textbooks	17
Assessing Presentation and Practice of New Language in Textbooks	18
Assessing Personalization in Textbooks	18
Assessing Grammar Coverage in Multiskills Textbooks	19
Assessing Pronunciation Coverage in Textbooks	20
Assessing Vocabulary Coverage in Textbooks	20
Coverage of the Four Skills	22
Assessing Variety in Textbooks	22
Assessing Grading in Textbooks	23
Assessing Meaningful Context	23
Considering Textbooks Series	24
Watching for -isms and Stereotyping in Textbooks	24
Watching for Language and Cultural Relevancy in Textbooks	24
Assessing Self-Directed Learning in Textbooks	25
Assessing Literacy Level in a Textbook	25

Inclusion of Supplementary Materials in Textbooks	25
Assessing Specialized Types of Textbooks	27
Adapting Textbooks	28
Examples of Textbook Adaptations	28
Copyright	34
CHAPTER 3: WRITTEN TEXTS	35
Learning or Slacking Off?	35
Some Challenging Questions	36
Written Text as Language Teaching Material	36
Matching Text to Student	36
Knowing Your Teaching and Program Objectives	37
Students' Interests and Ages	38
Children's Literature for Adults	38
Students' Background Knowledge	39
Students' Reading Ability and English Language Proficiency Levels	40
Text Layout and Presentation	41
Linguistic Difficulty of the Text	42
Text Genre and Writing Style	42
Authentic versus Simplified Written Text	45
Selecting Books for Extensive Reading	46
Books in Students' Native Languages	47
Written Text on the Internet	47
Student-Generated Written Text	48
Teacher-Created Written Text	53
Using Written Text	54
Published Written Text	57
Newspapers	57
Other Published Materials	58
Developing Activities for Written Text	59
Copyright	59
CHAPTER 4: VISUAL AIDS: PICTURES, CHARTS, AND REALIA	61
The Dual Identity of Language Teachers	61
Some Challenging Questions	62
The Importance of Visual Aids	62
Characteristics of Good Visuals	63
Types of Visual Aids and Their Uses	63
Drawings	64
Magazine Pictures	64
Sources	64
Selecting Pictures for a Picture File or Library	65
Classifying and Storing Pictures	65
Preparing Pictures	66
Activities for Using Drawings and Pictures	67

Developing Picture Activities for Teaching Meaning	67
Developing Picture Activities for Grammar and Vocabulary Practice	68
Developing Picture Activities for Practicing Descriptions	70
Developing Picture Activities for Writing	71
Developing Picture Activities for Problem-Posing	71
Picture Stories	72
Student-Found Pictures	73
Photographs	74
Flashcards	75
Preparation and Classification	75
Uses of Flashcards	75
Charts and Graphs	77
Wall Charts	77
Charts versus Board Drawings	80
Displaying Wall Charts and Pictures	80
Realia	80
Forms and Schedules	81
Post Office Items	82
Menus	82
Food and Related Items	82
Maps	83
Puppets and Toys	84
Cultural Artifacts	85
Collections of Objects	85
Rods	86
Key Visuals for Language and Content	87
Three Ideas for Developing Key Visuals	88
Developing Thinking Skills with Key Visuals	88
Thematic Webbing	89
Semantic Maps	90
Example of a Graphing Activity	91
CHAPTER 5: BASIC CLASSROOM RESOURCES	92
Learning to Teach with the Basics	92
Some Challenging Questions	93
What Are the Basic Classroom Resources?	93
The Board as Language Teaching Material	94
Advantages of the Board	94
Considerations in Board Selection and Use	95
Dividing the Board	95
Writing on the Board	96
Developing and Adapting Substitution Tables for the Board	97
Developing Simple Prompts on the Board	97
Developing and Adapting Dialogues on the Board	98
Developing and Adapting Drawings on the Board	99
Student Drawings on the Board	100

Developing Student Handwriting on the Board	100
Chart Paper as Language Teaching Material	100
Advantages of Chart Paper	100
Uses of Chart Paper	101
Other Types of Boards and Charts	101
Advantages of Other Types of Boards	101
Developing Uses for Other Types of Boards	101
Making Boards	101
Worksheets as Language Teaching Material	102
Why Develop Worksheets and Work Cards for Your Students?	103
Making Worksheets	103
Sample Worksheets	104
The Overhead Projector	121
Advantages of Using Overhead Projectors	121
General Considerations in Using Overhead Projectors	121
Activities with Overhead Projectors	123
The Power of Audiovisual	124
Audio as Language Teaching Material	124
Attributes of Audio CDs and Audiotapes	124
Types of Audio Material	125
Considerations in Selecting or Making Audio Recordings	127
Audio Listening Tasks	128
Language Labs	128
Advantages of Language Labs	128
Language Labs for Skills Development	129
Listening and Replying, and Free Speech	130
Video as Language Teaching Material	131
Attributes of Video Technology	131
Types of Recorded Video Material	131
Selecting Video Material	135
Options for Presenting Video	136
Activities with Video Material	136
Tips for Presenting Video	140
Video Recording Tips	140
Using Video Abroad	141
Copyright Restrictions Related to Audiovisual Material	142
CHAPTER 6: COMPUTERS AND THE INTERNET	143
Computer Lab Blues	143
Some Challenging Questions	145
Introduction to Computers and Computer Materials	145
Advantages and Limitations of Using Computers and
Computer-Based Materials	146
CALL	149
CD-ROM Technology	149

Types of CALL Programs	149
More on the Benefits and Drawbacks of CALL Programs	153
The Teacher's Role	154
Integrating CALL Material into Your Curriculum	155
Evaluating CALL Materials	155
Designing CALL Materials	156
The Internet	156
Online Interactive Technologies	158
E-Mail and Live Chat	158
Internet Tips	161
Tips to Get Students Started on the Internet	162
Sample Computer-Based Activities	162
Sample Online Conference Activity	163
Computer-Based and Internet-Based Testing	164
CHAPTER 7: PROJECT AND COMMUNITY CONTACT MATERIALS	167
Tanya's Language Learning Highlights	167
Some Challenging Questions	168
Projects	168
The Benefits of Project and Community Contacts	168
Stages in Project Development	169
Evaluation Tools for Project Work	177
Materials and Equipment for Projects	178
Project Ideas	178
Adapting Projects to EFL Contexts	180
Service Learning: Another Kind of Project	180
Benefits of Service Learning	180
General Structure of a Service Learning Project	181
Examples of Service Learning	181
Resources for Service Learning	183
Small-Scale Community Contact Materials and Tasks	183
Scavenger and Information Hunts and Materials	183
The Community and School as Resources	185
Maps and Map-Related Tasks as Material for Community Contacts	187
Pictures and Realia as Material for Community Contacts	189
Radio and Television as Material for Community Contacts	190
Telephone as Material for Community Contacts	190
Guest Speakers as Resources for Community Contacts	192
Other Possibilities	192
Resources Index	192
Appendix A: Major Publishers and Distributors of ELT Materials	193
Appendix B: Choosing Software	194
Appendix C: Computer Applications for Language Teaching and Learning	195
References	198