

INDEX

- accountability, 15, 25, 85, 166
- accreditation standards, 23
- acculturation, 73. See also socialization
- acquisition, distinction between socialization and, 83*n*
- action research, 76–77; analysis in, 80; assessment in, 81; description in, 79–80; observation in, 77–78; procedures in, 77–81; reasons in, 75–81; reflection in, 78–79; role of teacher in, 72–75, 208; writing up in, 80–81
- activities: authentic learning, 114, 127; constant reframing of, 140–141; in decision-making, 96; developing learning, 183; teacher-organized, 137
- Adelman, C., 75
- agency, 31–32; meaning of, 10
- analysis, 76; in action research, 80; frame, 189–191
- Andrews, Senator John, 4
- anecdotes, 19, 22
- Anthony, E. M., 93, 159
- anthropological view, standards in, 171
- apperceptive learning, 138. See also learning
- apprenticeship model, 73
- Argyris, C., 50
- assessment: teacher-produced and standardized tests in, 81
- assessments: in action research, 81; informal, 34; observation in, 56; pencil-and-paper, 56. See also evaluations
- assimilation, 49
- Ausubel, D. P., 48
- authentic interaction strategies, 138–147; checking for comprehension, 142–144; extending comprehension, 142–144; moving closer to students in, 141–142; reframing of activity in, 140–141; shifting perspective, 144
- authenticity: achieving, in teaching, 114; defined, 14, 112, 133–134; in language teaching, 14, 111–132, 158; reasons for, 112–116; revisiting, 133–148; in use of language, 117; working out bugs, 126–128
- authentic learning activities, 114; creating, within curriculum, 127
- authentic lessons: finding time to create, 147; identifying, 147–148; mandated materials in, 147
- authentic relationships, 68; fostering, with learners, 72–73
- authentic teaching: obstacles to, 126; problems with conventional thinking about, 14–15
- authority, 85; connecting values, practice, and, 97–101; locus of, 169; primary sources of, 200–201

- autobiography, 85–86; defined, 88; philosophy at, 84–113; three-point rationale for philosophy as, 89–90; use of, in teaching, 61*n*
- Baker, E. D., 18*n*
- Bateson, G., 32*n*, 33, 47, 74, 87, 93, 94, 110*n*, 128*n*, 135, 195
- Bateson, M. C., 61*n*, 94
- Becker, Pete, 93
- behaviorism, 47
- Berger, B., 61*n*
- Berger, P., 61*n*, 110*n*
- Berger, T., 61*n*
- Berry, W., 70
- “Best Practices Red Herring,” 64
- best practices view of instruction, 149
- bias, accusations of political, 4
- blackboard composition, 15–16, 150–153, 156, 157
- blame, vs. responsibility, 67, 68, 102, 173
- blind spots, discovering, 101–106
- Bloom, B. S., 48
- Bolman, L. G., 140, 189–190, 191
- Bradbury, H., 75
- broad tendencies, identifying, in teaching, 96–97
- Bronfenbrenner, U., 50
- Brown, H. D., 32*n*, 93, 159
- Bruner, Jerome, 49
- Bugs! lesson, 115–121, 145–148; from an ecological perspective, 134–138; comprehension in, 142–143; moving around the room in, 141; shifting perspective in, 146
- “bully pulpit,” 5
- Burns, Robert, 106, 110*n*
- Cain, C., 50, 91, 94, 100
- Capra, F., 135
- carrot and stick approaches, 10
- causal thinking, 10. See also systems thinking
- change efforts, reframing, 189–191
- choices: giving students chances for self-authorizing, 126; making, in complex world, 10–11, 19–33; seeing, in teaching, 21–24; self-authorizing, 122–126; for teachers, 9, 31. See also decision-making
- Christensen, F., 155–156
- Clarke, M. A., 3, 5–7, 18*n*, 31, 54, 139
- classroom(s): context of, 26–27; conversation-oriented, 46; management of, 66–67; modifying environment in, 183; as open systems, 23
- classroom interactions: rhythm in, 14–15, 133–48; routine in, 14–15, 133–48
- client-centered approach to counseling, 48
- Cochran-Smith, M., 166
- cognitivism, 47–48
- coherence, 31, 94–95; seeking, in work, 200–201
- Cole, M., 47, 49, 99
- Cole, S. R., 49
- Colorado Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages (CoTESOL), 23–24
- Commins, N. L., 182, 183*n*, 188
- common ground, 2, 5, 29, 30, 32, 148, 172, 189,
- communicative interaction, focused language lesson versus, 40–41
- complexity, coping with, 17, 72, 189–191, 206
- comprehension, 42, 143; checking for, 142–144; extending, 142–144; summarizing of group responses in, 42
- computer class, student desire to take, 187, 193
- consciousness, third and fourth order, 175–176
- control (see also causal thinking, constraints, distributed, initiative), limited to self, 9, 102; and initiative, 15, 37, 40–41, 149, 158, 163; unilateral, illusion of, 54, 170; some degree of, as quest for coherence, 94–95, 206; tension between societal control and personal responsibility, 168
- constructivism, 49–50
- contested territory, 2, 29, 30, 64, 172, 210
- context, 32*n*, 74; classroom, 26–27; community, 27; person-to-person, 26; professional organizations, 27; school, 27
- controlled composition techniques, 154
- constraint(s), as factors that influence events, 14, 22, 28, 29, 37, 55, 78, 111, 126, 127, 173, 181, 182
- core values, 32, 85, 177
- Covey, Steven, 122
- curriculum: addressing, 22; balancing demands of, 19; creating meaningful, authentic activities within, 127; ecological perspectives of, 58; making adjustments in procedures, 184; reflection of, in lessons, 58

- curriculum committee, serving on, 31
Curtin, Dave, 18*n* cycles, as patterns in time, 28–30, 80, 135–136, 168
- daily routines, helping learners negotiate, 184
Davis, W. A., 18*n*, 54, 83*n*
Deal, T. E., 140, 189–190, 191 decision-making: basis for, 95–106; centralized, 27; connecting values, authority and practice in, 97–101; discovering omissions and blind spots in, 101–106; framework for, 180–181; identifying broad tendencies in, 96–97; key events and activities in, 96; organizing, 10, 31–32; overlapping influences on, 27–29; politics of, 71; in teaching, 2, 19, 21–24. See also choices
- description in action research, 79–80 developmental constructivism, 94, 195
Dewey, J., 33, 75, 80, 85, 99, 100, 107
Diamond, J., 3
disturbances as instigators of change, 16, 121, 123, 180, 182, 205
Dobson, B. K., 117, 139
Drago-Severson, E., 100
- ecological perspectives of teaching, 10–11, 170; agency in, 19, 31–32; Bugs! lesson from, 134–138; challenges in, 29; choices in, 10–11, 19–33; curriculum in, 58; decision-making in, 19, 21–24, 31, 32; English language teaching in, 24–30; lesson in, 58; problems in, 194–195; professional discretion in, 19; salient features of, 134; scale in, 28, 31; school day in, 28; situation in, 198; standards in, 171
ecology, 50, 112, 116; as metaphor for understanding teaching and learning, 23, 32*n*
- Edge, J., 75
education: decisions in, 5; defining territory of, 5; diversity of individuals in, 2; mandates in, 26, 147, 173; reasons for theory in, 52 educational policy, standards in, 171
Elliot, J., 75
English language learners, 22; differences from previous educational experiences and, 135–136; problems of, 183; promotion of change to support, 180; teaching writing to, 154
English language specialists, reducing number of, in school, 36
English language teaching: ecological view of, 24–30; in shaping identity and culture, 22–23 environment(s) for learning, 7, 10, 12, 16, 23, 26–30, 40, 48, 49, 50, 67, 71, 74, 75, 77, 102, 116, 134, 137, 170, 174, 177, 181, 182, 183, 194, 204
Erickson, F., 77, 175 evaluations: constructing your own, 176–177; making adjustments in procedures, 184. See also assessments external messages, 203–204
- Fader, D. N., 156–157
failed lessons, distributing responsibility equally for, 102–106
Fanselow, John, 158–159
fears of teacher, 105–106
feedback, providing opportunities for, 122, 126 field notes, 77–78
5th Dimension, 49
first language literacy development, adjusting activities to account for differences in, 183 focused language lesson, communicative interaction versus, 40–41 frame analysis, 189–191; human resource, 190; political, 190; structural, 190; symbolic, 190
Freire, P., 99, 107–108
Friedman, T. L., 3 functioning toward stability, 135
- Gagne, R., 48
Gattegno, C., 82, 83*n*
Geertz, C., 110*n*, 175
goals: learning, 63; of lessons, 63; overriding, of teaching, 144; of teacher, 68–69
Goffman, Erving, 61*n*, 110*n*, 140, 189 grammar: developing command of, 157; making corrections in, 41
- Harries-Jones, P., 94, 128*n*
Hill, Gwen, 11, 20–21
Holland, D., 50, 91, 94, 100

- Hooked on Books* (Fader), 156
homeostasis, 135
Horowitz, David, 4
humanism, 48–49
Husserl, Edmund, 61*n*
- identity, personal and cultural, 7, 13, 22, 30, 49, 66, 112, 113 immigrant families, learners from, 76–77
improvisation, 158–162
initiative and control, 15, 37, 40–41, 149, 158, 163, initiatives, identifying specific, 182–201 instruction: adjusting activities in, to account for language proficiency, 183; best practices view of, 149; differentiated, 57 interaction: authentic, 138–147; classroom, 14–15, 133–147; communicative, 40–41; democratic, 138; in developing activities for learning, 183; interpersonal, 63; providing chances for, 122, 126 internal messages, 203–204
- Jackson, D. D., 94
Johns, Ann, 208
Johnson, S., 137
journals, 156–157
- Kaplan, R. B., 154–155
Kegan, R., 47, 49, 83*n*, 91, 94, 107, 110*n*, 128*n*, 144, 145, 174, 175, 195
Kellner, H., 61*n*
Kramsch, C., 50, 83*n*, 99
Kumaravidevalu, B., 93
- Lachicotte, W. J., 50, 91, 94, 100
Lahey, L. L., 49, 107, 144, 145, 195 language: acquisition, 62; authentic use of, 117; learning, 7 language teaching, 23; authenticity in, 14, 111–132, 158; as conversational accomplishment, 40–41; as direct didactic event, 40–41. See also second language learning
Larsen-Freeman, D., vii
Laskow, Lisa, 128*n*
Lave, Jean, Wenger, E., 49 learners: attributes of, 53; developing activities that increase interaction in, 183; fostering authentic relationships with, 72–73; gathering prior language and literacy experiences about, 183; from immigrant families, 76–77; learning to be, 43–46; observation of, 34; uniqueness of, 10 learning, 33–61; behaviorist concepts of, 47; cognitive, 47–48; conclusions on teaching and, 7–9; constructivist, 49–50; creating opportunities for, 116; defined, 22, 55; emergent, 137; fostering of, 36; humanistic, 48–49; innate predisposition for, 73; language, 7; nature of, 73; objective view of, 5; recognizing occurrence of, 55–56; reflection of, in lessons, 57–58; relationship between teaching and, 56–57; scholarly debate about nature of, 36; self-directed, 48; sociocultural approaches to, 50–51; student taking responsibility for, 149; successful experience, 53; teaching as, 12, 62–83; theory of, 34; whole-person, 7, 48, 54 learning as change over time through engagement in activity, 22, 47, 55, 67, 73, 163 learning theories: contributions of, 46–51; support of established, 53
Leather, J., 50, 83*n*
Leonard, D. C., 47
lesson plans, 11, 118; decision-making and, 21–22 lessons: distributing responsibility equally for failed, 102–106; ecological perspectives of, 58; goals for, 63; planning of, 11, 21–22, 118; reflection of curriculum, 58; reflection of learning in, 57–58; subject-matter content of, 34 lessons preparation and choreography, 122–126; core values in, 122; feedback in, 122, 126; head and heart and, 122, 125–126; interaction in, 122, 126; rhythm and routine in, 122, 123; self-authorizing choices in, 122, 126; strong, transparent, light in, 122, 123–125 letter-writing campaign, 11 leverage points, 196, 198, 200, 207
Lewin, K., 75
light, strong, transparent (characteristics of authentic lessons), 122–125 life, 204–207; learning as, 12

- literacy: first language, 183; newspaper stories in teaching, 112; second language, 183; whole language approaches to, 7, 48, 54
 Luckmann, T., 61*n*
- Macedo, D., 99, 107
- main idea, principle of, in teaching writing, 155
- mandated materials, 26, 147; in authentic lessons, 147; balancing, 173; responding to, 149
- Maslow, Abraham, 48
- McCloskey, Mary Lou, 60*n*
- Mead, George Herbert, 110*n*
- Mead, Margaret, 33
- “Methods and Materials Myopia,” 64
- middle school hallway scuffle, 186, 192
- Miller, G. A., 48
- Miramontes, O. B., 182, 183*n*, 188
- Montessori, Maria, 33
- The Mouse and the Motorcycle* (Cleary), 11, 37, 38–39, 45, 48, 55, 56
- Murray, D. M., 157
- Narratives, 19; formal, 90
- Nathenson-Mejia, S., 54
- National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, 2
- nesting environments, 181, 203*n*
- newspaper: teaching from a, 14; using stories in, to teach language and literacy skills, 112
- North High School (Denver, CO), 2
- Norton, B., 91, 99, 100, 188
- notes-to-self, 57, 64, 79, 97, 118
- Notes Toward a New Rhetoric* (Christensen), 155
- nudge/nudging, as an approach to teaching and agitating for change, 14, 30, 55, 57, 62, 63, 112, 126, 135, 144, 148, 157, 160, 163, 168, 177, 181, 198, 205
- observation: in action research, 77–78; in assessment, 56; in responding to problems, 69
- omissions, discovering, 101–106
- open systems, classrooms as, 23. See also systems thinking
- parent/teacher conference, 187, 193
- Parsons, T., 50, 110*n*
- patterns: identifying factors that maintain, 198; practice with, 160
- peer teaching, 157
- pencil-and-paper assessments, 56
- personal theory, constructing, 51–55
- philosophy: authority in, 85; as autobiography, 84–113; claiming, as teacher territory, 85–95; components of, 85; core values in, 85; defined, 84–85; nature and use of, 87; practices in, 85; questions on, 84; of teaching, 13; three-point rationale for, as autobiography, 89–90
- Piaget, Jean, 49, 50
- Plato, 85
- players, 2, 30, 196, 200, 206
- politics, 71–72; of decision-making, 71
- practices, 85; connecting values, authority, and, 97–101
- practitioner, teacher as reflective, 12, 69–70, 207, 208
- pragmatic, as rule of thumb, 8-9
- preparation period, 51
- problems, perspectives on, 191–195; understanding your own contributions to, 102, 106, 201
- problems cannot be solved at the level they are encountered, 12, 24–30, 75–77, 181
- professional conduct: essence of, 167; national policies for, 167
- professional organizations, context of, 27
- professional privilege, 3–5
- progress, evidence of, 122, 201, 207
- pronunciation, 41–42
- publish-or-perish ethic, 70
- punctuation, 41–42, 44
- questions: grounding of, in systems theory, 19; identifying whose count, 1–18; opinion, 146; on philosophy, 84; tactical, 13; true/false, 146
- real world, relationship between school and, 112–113
- Reason, P., 75
- reflection in action research, 78–79
- reflective practice, features of, 81–82
- reflective practitioner, teacher as, 12, 69–70, 206, 207, 208
- reframing, 140–41; change efforts in, 189–191; problems of, 199

- research, 70–71; action, 75–81; definition of, as published articles, 70; neuro-psychological, 91; scientific, 87; teaching and, 71
- resistance, 14, 68, 72, 104, 111, 113, 127–128, 145
- rhetorical principles, 154–155
- Rhodes, L. K., 18*n*, 54
- rhythm: in classroom interactions, 14–15, 133–148; in daily lives, 90; as a characteristic of authentic lessons, 123
- Rogers, Carl, 48
- Rogoff, B., 50, 72, 91, 94
- round-robin reading sessions, 53
- routines: in classroom interactions, 14–15, 133–148; in daily lives, 90–91
- rules of thumb, for wrestling with ideas, 8–9; as philosophy, 86
- scaffolding, 10, 112, 138–139, 145; language-focused, 147
- scale, 27–29, 31, 204–206; as rule of thumb, 9; graphic for, 28, 204; phenomenon of, 203*n*; working definition of, 203*n*
- scholarly work, keeping up with, 149
- Schon, D. A., 50
- schools: context of, 27; making changes in, 16–17, 180–203; mitigating the pressures of, 127–128; relationship between real world and, 112–113; working toward equity in policies at, 183
- Schutz, Alfred, 61*n*
- second language literacy development, adjusting activities to account for differences in, 183
- self-employed, becoming, 174–178
- Selkirk, M., 54
- Senge, P., 50
- Shakespeare, 89
- Shanklin, N., 54
- Shannon, C. E., 48
- sheltered instruction, mandate to abolish, 185, 192
- Silberstein, S., 117, 139
- Skinner, B. F., 47
- Skinner, D., 50, 91, 94, 100
- socialization, 63, 138; distinction between acquisition and, 83*n* See also acculturation
- sociocultural theory, 50–51, 94
- sociopolitical and professional forces, 28–29
- Socrates, 85
- spelling, 41–42, 44
- spheres of influence, 32, 89, 196, 198
- standards: construction of, 173; defined, 171–172; forms of, 167–168; origins of, 176; teaching to, 16, 166–179
- standards-based instruction, balancing your commitment to, 183
- Stein, J., 46, 87
- Stevick, E. W., 14, 40–41, 60*n*, 69, 83*n*, 93, 96, 99, 100, 123, 158, 165*n*
- strategies: authentic interaction, 138–147; for organizational and personal change, 195–196; study, 188, 194
- strong, transparent, light (characteristics of authentic lessons), 122–125
- student(s): assessment of, 11, 34, 56, 81; assignment of, to classes, 69; desire to take computer class, 187, 193; giving chances for self-authorizing choices, 126; grouping and regrouping, 183; interaction between teachers and, 40; moving closer to, in authentic interaction, 141–142; multiple demands on, 25; progress of, 36; responding to anxieties of, 22; taking responsibility for learning, 149
- student-as-student role playing, 141–142
- student-centered teaching, 182
- student initiative: balance between teacher control and, 37; teacher-organized activities and, 137
- superiors, establishing principled relationship with, 177–178
- Svetlana, 136
- systems theory, grounding of questions in, 19
- systems thinking, 195
- teacher(s): balance between student initiative and control by, 37; burnout of, 167; climate of workplace, 5; commitments as, 107; constructing own evaluations, 176–177; discouragement of, 167; exercise of professional prerogatives, 2; fears of, 105–106; flexibility and responsiveness of, 169; goals of, 68–69; historical context of, 166; identification of good, 61*n*; interaction between students and, 40; participation of, in class assignment, 69; pressures faced by, 25–26; problems faced by, 3; professional

- conduct of, 167; range of choices for, 9, 31; theory of learning for, 11
- “Teacher knows best,” 9
- teacher-organized activities, tension between student-initiated activities and, 137
- teacher-produced and standardized tests, 81
- teacher roles, 1–2, 74; as action researcher, 72–75, 207; as activist, 208; in control, 37, 41; as ecologist, 206; as individual, 54; in leadership, 24; as philosopher, 207; in professional prerogative, 2; as reflective practitioner, 12, 69–70, 206, 207, 208; as theorist, 207
- Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL), 2
- teacher territory, claiming philosophy as, 85–95
- teaching: adapting procedures to classroom, 74; authentic, 14, 126; authenticity in language, 14; best practices or proven methods of, 33; classroom, 2; in classroom management, 66–67; conclusions on learning and, 7–9; decision-making in, 2, 21–24; ecological approach to, 10–11, 170; effective, 67–68, 69; focusing on essentials of, 64; as function of relationship, 86; human relationships and, 22; improving, 87–88; individualized, 57; as institutional accomplishment, 27, 71, 181; as learning, 12, 62–83; as negotiation, 116; as noble endeavor, 30; obstacles to authentic, 126; overriding goal of, 144; peer, 157; philosophy of, 13; as political activity, 71–72; primary purpose of, 36; problems with conventional thinking about, 14–15; quality of, 86; reasons for being in, 66; relationship between learning and, 56–57; research and, 71; rules of thumb on, 8–9; scientifically based, 15; as solitary endeavor, 127, 170–171; to standards, 16, 166–179; student-centered, 182; substituting, for scientific research, 87
- teaching as learning: analysis in action research, 80; assessment in action research, 81; description in action research, 79–80; observation in action research, 77–78; reflection in action research, 78–79; writing up in action research, 80–81
- techniques, 160–162; controlled composition, 154
- theory: constructing personal, 51–55; defined, 46; of learning, 34; personality, 91; reason for, in education, 52; sociocultural, 50–51, 94
- “Things are the way they are not by accident,” 78, 173,
- thinking: causal, 10; problems with conventional, about teaching, 14–15; systems, 195
- Toulmin, S., 94, 173–174
- transparent, strong, light (characteristics of authentic lessons), 122–125
- Trechock, Aimee, 11, 37–40, 41–43, 44–46, 47, 48, 50, 57–58, 62
- Tupa, Ron, 4
- Ulich, R., 47
- Urdang, L., 46, 87
- Valdes, Guadalupe, 188
- values: connecting authority, practice, and, 97–101; core, 32, 85, 177
- van Dam, J., 50, 83*n*
- Van Lier, L., 32*n*
- Vygotsky, L., 49, 50, 99
- Watzlawick, P. J., 94
- Wenger, E., 47, 49, 50, 107
- Wertsch, J. V., 50
- “What gets done (reveals what) is important,” 82, 171
- whole language approaches to literacy, 7, 48, 54
- whole-person learning, 7, 48, 54
- “Why not . . .” principles, 16, 169, 176
- Wilde, Oscar, 180
- Wilden, A., 94
- Wittgenstein, Ludwig, 87
- “... works in practice, but will it work in theory?” 64
- writing: in action research, 80–81; blackboard composition in, 15–16, 150–153, 156, 157; mentors in teaching, 154–158; principle of addition in, 155; principle of subordination and coordination in, 155; principle of the main idea in, 155; rhetoric principles in, 154–155; teaching to English language learners, 154
- zone of proximal development, 49