

Subject Index

- Academic Word List, 81 academic writing blogging in, 15; citations in, 60; rhetoric in, 84; visual component in, 63–64 accessibility, Internet and, 110
aggregators, growing use of, 77
Alado Webcasts, 144
A-list bloggers, 38
Amazon.com, 126
American Life Project, 78 applied linguistics, 81 architecture, relationship between social structure and, 20 ARPANET, 146, 148
associative accessing, 59
asynchronous discourse, 73, 130 defined, 67; flaming and, 73–74; forms of, 22, 71; in L2 composition classroom, 146–147; synchronous discourse versus, 130, 143–146; writing pace in, 73 Audacity®, 177 audience, responding to, 117–121 authentic discourse, examples of, 81 authorship, 3, 46
 across cultures, 30; blogging and, 73; collective form of, 37–38; technology and, 34–41; traditional concepts of, 72

Blackboard, 104, 153
bloggers, 38–39, 76
 A-list, 38; posting of discourse by, 25

blogging, 10, 13, 19, 22, 54 in academic writing class, 15; authorship and, 37–38, 73; in composition classroom, 154–166; control over, 79–80; controversies regarding, 167; popularity of, 34–41; privacy issues and, 157; reasons for, 155–156; in a second language, 72–80; text-based, 155
Bloglines.com, 13, 76
blogosphere, 38, 76
 authorship in, 38; importance of, in challenging social order, 205; long tail of, 38 blogrolls, 37, 76
blogs, 32, 57, 123, 145
 collective nature of, 36; content of, 74–76; creating, 177; defined, 74; filter, 75; group, 168; integration of images into, 77–78; knowledge, 75; oral, 154–55; for peer review, 126–127; personal, 75; on plagiarism, 162; political, 31; publication of, 36–37; setting up, for composition class, 156; suggestions for using, 166–168; team, 168; types of, 75; video, 154–155, 211; written nature of, 162
Blogs.Free-ESL.com, 37
blogsites, 38
BlogThis, 77
British National Corpus, 180

- Calico (conference), 208, 213
 CALL. See computer-aided language learning (CALL) CCCC intellectual property caucus, 4
 CBS News, 149–50 cell phones, 205
 as writing devices, 100
 chat areas, 134
 China, 78
 attitudes toward plagiarism in, 38; Internet access in, 92; Yahoo® in, 31 class materials, putting online, 104–106 classroom. See also composition classrooms; L2 composition classrooms
 CMD. See computer-mediated discourse (CMD)
 CMS. See course management system (CMS)
 Collins Cobuild, 42, 178, 188, 190, 191, 192, 196 comment functions of Microsoft Word, 101, 102 commenting, 87
 online, 86, 103; on student papers, 101–103
 CommonSpace, 55, 86, 87
 Compleat Lexical Tutor, 178, 180, 188, 191 composing process, teaching about using hypertext, 116–117 composition classrooms. See also L2 composition classrooms blogging in, 154–166;
 concordance programs in, 188–193; designing or choosing space for, 136–137; implementation in, 2; Internet in extending, 103–110; potential of computer in, 1; setting up blogs for, 156; technology in, 3, 15, 86; web page design in, 15 composition courses, interactivity in, 21–23 composition teaching current-traditional approach to, 23–24; social-epistemic approach to, 56–57 composition theory, technology and, 23–26 computer(s), 208
 desktop versus laptop, 53;
 growing use of, 51; integrating Internet and, 97–101; potential of, in composition classroom, 1; quietness of, 52; student use of, 97–99 computer-aided language learning (CALL), 26–29, 80 interest section on, at TESOL, 1, 47, 48; research on, 94, 193; traditional view of, 29 computer hardware, 17, 86 computer labs, 53, 100 computer literacy, 12, 19 computer-mediated discourse (CMD), 2, 25, 66–80 architecture of, 41–42;
 defined, 66; differences between asynchronous and synchronous forms of, 130, 143–146; general uses of, 133–134; in L2 composition classroom, 130–177; pedagogical use of, 137; remediating problems with classroom use of, 169–172, 174–176; as replacement for classroom discussion, 79; roles for teachers in, 96, 172–173; synchronous forms of, 67–68; weblogs as forms of, 72; as writing space, 67–71 computer networking, 2, 88 development of, 55; growth of, 47; writing and, 55–56
Computers and Composition (journal), 208, 213
 Computers and Writing (conference), 213 concordance programs, 2, 42, 80–83, 95, 182, 188

- in composition classroom, 188–193; goals for using, 178–180; grammar usage and, 84; in L2 composition teaching, 84; nature of interfaces, 191–193; redesigning user interface, 196–200; remediating, 193–200; suggestions for using, 201–202; teaching vocabulary and grammar using, 95, 180–187
- concordance websites, 180
- constructivism, 61
as approach to education, 60–61; learning paradigm in, 66; metaphors in, 62
- contrastive rhetoric, 30
- Copyright, 3, 90
- copyright laws, 190
- corpora, design of, 194–196
- corpus linguistics, 83
in second language classroom, 178–203; teaching of grammar and, 80–85
- course management system (CMS), 20, 41–42, 153
- Creative Commons movement, 3, 90
- critical thinking, computer-mediated discourse (CMD) and, 69
- cross-talk, 150
- cultures
technology across, 46; in writing process, 30
- current-traditional approach to composition teaching, 23–24
- Daedalus®, 55
- Daedalus InterChange®, 68
- DailyKos, 36
- data-driven learning, 85, 186, 201
- decentralization of learning, 110
- Del.i.cio.us, 54, 76, 104, 110
- digital divide, 78–79, 208–209
- digital literacies, 12–14, 26
- digital materials, ownership of, 142
- Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA), 90
- eportfolios and, 116–117
- digital writing, 100–101
- discourse. See also asynchronous discourse; Computer-mediated discourse (CMD); synchronous discourse authentic, 81; online, 13; posting of, by bloggers, 25
- distributed cognition, 110
- doctrine of first use, 90–91
- downloading music files, 2–3
- Dreamweaver, 112
- drill and practice techniques, 27–28
- Drupal, 212
- Dungeons & Dragons, 136
- eBay®, 19, 126
manipulation on, 127
- Editor5, 82
- EdTechTalk, 208
- Edublogs, 176
- Educational Testing Service (ETS), 4 computer-based testing and, 98
- Electronic Village, 208
- Illuminate®, 66, 68, 135–136, 142, 144
- email, 32–33, 54
difficulties in controlling, 20–21; formal versus informal, 12; in L2 composition classroom, 146–152; using, 153–154
- EnCore, 144
- encryption programs, 190
- ENFI project, 55
- eportfolios, digital storytelling and, 117
- E-rater®, 4
- ethos, 121–122
- face-to-face instruction, 140, 142
- fair use, 3, 190*n*
- filter blogs, 76
- flaming, 74, 132, 170
- Flash, 112
- Flickr™, 77, 104, 110, 124, 168
- folksonomies, 13
- foreign language education, computer-aided language learning in, 26–27

- free speech, importance of, 171–172
 FrontPage, 105, 112
- Google™, 4, 63, 77, 92, 210
 in China, 31
- Google™ Docs & Spreadsheets, 54
- grammar with concordance programs, 95, 180–187; corpus linguistics and, 81–85; explicit, 85
- GRAMMATIK, 82
- group blogs, 168
- Gutenberg Galaxy, 14
- Hello™, 77
- Hot Potatoes™, 108, 128, 198, 203
- HTML (hypertext markup language), 19, 111–112
- HyperCard, 59
- hypertexts, 2, 11–12, 13, 33, 57
 basic precepts of, 59–60;
 blogging as means of introducing, 166; coining of term, 59; defined, 58; development of, 25; dominance of, over traditional linear forms of literacy, 60; integrating, 110–112; nature of, 64–65; pedagogical value of, 60–61; suggestions for teaching, 123–124; teaching about composing process using, 117–127, 128; visual nature of, 65–66, 113–116; writing, 58–63
- hypertextuality, visual nature of, 63–64
- instant messaging, 67, 205
- Instant Messenger, 137
- InstaPundit, 36
- intellectual property rights, 2, 3, 89–90, 96, 189–190
- Intelligent Essay Assessor, 4
- interactivity, 46
 in composition courses, 21–23;
 in technology use, 20–23
- intercultural rhetoric, technology and, 30–34
- International Corpus of English, 180
- Internet
 accessibility and, 110;
 establishing trust on, 125–126; to extend composition classroom, 103–104; gender and, 78; goal for creation of, 66; growth of, 2, 47–48; integrating computer and, 97–101; push-pull, 104; putting class materials on, 104–106; research into intercultural rhetoric in, 30–31; writing and, 56–66
- Internet Galaxy, 14
- Internet Relay Chats (IRC), 67
- intertextuality, 60, 119
- Jobs, S., 47
- just-in-time learning, 22, 188, 210
- Kairos*, 66
- keyboard macros, 101–102
- Kennedy, J. F., 126*n*
- L1 composition research, 26
- L2 composition areas of intersection between computer-aided language learning and, 28; teaching of, 32–33; technology in, 48–49
- L2 composition classrooms, 9–46. See also composition classrooms asynchronous discourse in, 145; computer-mediated discourse in, 130–177; computer networking in, 55; integrating outside websites into, 106–110; nature of synchronous discourse in, 138–142; training and implementation of technology in, 41–44; use of technologies in, 93; using email in, 146–152; using synchronous

- discourse in, 134–142; weblogs in, 75; web page design in, 26; word processing in, 49
- L2 composition study, research into intercultural rhetoric in, 32
- L2 composition teachers complexity of technologies and, 6–7; use of technology, 2
- L2 composition teaching, concordancing in, 83
- L2 composition theory, 24–25
- language learning growing prominence of, 47–48; technology and, 26–29
- laptops desktop computers versus, 53; extension of learning environment, 101
- learning. See also computer-aided language learning (CALL) data-driven, 85, 186, 201; decentralization of, 110; just-in-time, 188, 210; language, 26–29, 47–48; second language, 26–27, 81
- LearningTimes™, 208
- Lingua MOO, 134
- Linguistic Data Consortium, 180
- linguistic imperialism, 31
- listservs, 36, 57, 146, 148, 151, 176 collective nature of, 36; using, 153–54
- literacies, 45 civic, 32; computer, 12, 19; critical, 12; digital, 12–14, 26; functional, 12; historical studies of, 13–14; multimedia, 64; multimodal, 33; multiple, 45, 57–58, 207; opportunities for using forms of, 110–111; print, 10–19; rhetorical, 12; situated, 57; technological, 9, 10–19, 98; technology and, 11, 14–19; visual, 63–66, 113–116
- local area computer networks (LANs), 24, 55 development of, 88
- Longman Dictionary of Contemporary English*, 82
- long tail, 18–19, 36–37
- lurking, 134
- MacroExpress®, 102*n*
- macro-level technology, 41
- Marita, 164*n*
- MediaMOO, 21
- Memex, 59
- Merlot, 106, 108
- metadiscourse, 84
- Metcalf's law, 57
- MICASE*, 192, 197
- Microsoft Word, 87, 101 comment function of, 101, 102
- mobblogging, 75
- mobility, 209–10
- MonoConc 2.2, 178, 188, 190–191, 194, 195, 197
- Moodle, 41
- MOOs. See multiple-user dimension, object-oriented (MOOs)
- MUDs. See multiple-user dimension (MUDs)
- multiple literacies, 45, 57–58, 207
- multiple-user dimension (MUDs), 67, 134
- multiple-user dimension, object-oriented (MOOs), 21, 25, 67, 134–135, 137, 139, 144
- music files, downloading and uploading, 2–3
- myspace.com, 38, 167
- neo-Luddites, 92, 99
- Netflix, 126
- netiquette, 132
- Netscape Composer, 112
- network-based writing, approaches to, 55–56
- New Rhetoric, 56–57
- non-neutrality of technology, 45, 51–52
- Oh My News, 31
- online chat, 145–146
- online commenting, 87, 103
- online discourse, 12, 13

- online education, technology in, 3–4 online plagiarism resource sites, 106–107 online writing centers (OWLs), 108 open architecture, 42
 open-source, 91
 open-source websites, 38, 40 opportunities for using forms of literacy, 110–111 oral blogs, 154–155
 OurStory, 38
- password protection, 108 pedagogical value of hypertexts, 60–61 peer review, 103, 120 using wikis and blogs for, 126 personal blogs, 76
 personal digital assistants (PDAs), as writing devices, 100
 Pew Internet, 78
Phaedrus (Plato), 4
 phatic communication, 136
 photosharing websites, 78
 Photoshop, 112
 plagiarism, 3, 4–5, 89–90, 107, 166, 212
 blogs about, 162; Chinese attitudes toward, 40; cross-cultural study of, 40; strategies for dealing with, 107 podcasts, 25–26, 104, 154–55, 177, 206, 211
 PodOmatic, 104, 155
 pop-up ads, 74
 print literacy, 10–19
 print texts, visual information integration into, 58 privacy issues, blogging and, 157 process writing, 50, 51, 71 push/pull environments, 22, 58 push/pull Internet, 104
- Read/Write, 22–23
 Really Simple Solution (RSS), 13, 76 reflective writing, 164–165 reporting verbs, 182–183 reputation systems, 126
- rhetoric in academic writing, 83;
 contrastive, 30; intercultural, 30–34
 rhetorical ethos, creating, 121–122
- Sakai project, 105*n*
 SAT®, 51
 scaffolding, 163–164 second language. See also L2 entries
 blogging in, 72–80
 second language classrooms. See also L2 composition classrooms corpus linguistics in, 178–203 second language composition teachers, 67–68 second language learning, 81 computer-aided language learning in, 26–27 second language writing process, 30
- Second Life®, 67, 137
 SEEN, 50
 Smart Thinking, 4 social-epistemic approach to composition teaching, 56–57 social interactions, 136 Internet contribution to, 20 social structure, relationship between architecture and, 20 software. See also concordance programs integration of word processing, spreadsheets, and databases into one package, 97 source texts, evaluating websites as, 124–125 spammers, 20
 spell-checking, 83 students computer use by, 97–99;
 technological background of, 43 synchronous discourse, 22, 67 asynchronous discourse versus, 130, 145–146; flaming and, 73;
 in L2 composition classroom,

- 134–142; suggestions for using, 143–144; typing skills and, 132
systemic interaction, process of, 86–87
- taggers, 188
- Tapped-In®, 67, 73, 135, 137, 138*n*, 143, 144, 208
- teachers. See also L2 composition teachers comments on student papers, 101–103; in computer-mediated discourse, 172–173; demand for technological skills, 16–17; in designing curricula, 207–208; resistant to technology, 99; technological background of, 43
- technological change consequence of, 208–209; effect on reading audience, 11
- technological literacy, 9, 14–19, 98 acquisition of, 13–14, 16
- technology
authorship and, 34–41; in composition classroom, 3, 15; composition theory and, 23–26; critical view of, 88–94; defined, 204; design of learning space, 100; financial costs of implementing, 5; as form of literacy, 14–19; interactivity in use of, 20–23; intercultural rhetoric and, 30–34; language learning and, 26–29; literacy and, 11; non-neutrality of, 45, 51–52; in online education, 3–4; potential of new, 47–96; systemic view of, 84–88; in teaching writing, 204; theoretical concerns in use of, 9–10; training and the implication of, in L2 composition classroom, 41–44; writing process and, 101–103
- technopoly, 4–5
- Technorati™, 13, 75, 76, 168
- technorealism, 8
- techno-utopianism, 3
- TECHRHET, 208
- TESL-L, 176
- TESOL, 208, 213
- text messaging, 205
- theory
composition, 23–26; relationship between practice and, 9–10
- thinkfree, 54
- ThinkTank, 23
- threaded discussion board, 21, 145
- threaded discussions, using, 153–154
- TOEFL®, 51
- TOPOI, 51
- trolls, 73–74
- Turnitin.com, 4, 123, 128
- uploading music files, 2–3
- usenet newsgroups, 145, 148–149
using, 153–54
- user interface, redesigning, 196–200
- user testability, 98
- video blogs, 154–55, 211
- videocasts, 26
- VIEW, 180, 188, 191
- Virtual Language Centre, 180, 191–192, 192
- visual information, integration into print texts, 58
- visual literacy, 63–66, 115–116 importance of, 114
- vocabulary
explicit teaching of, 85; teaching with concordance programs, 180–187
- vodcasts, 154–155
- Vox, 42
- WANDAH, 50
- watchblogging, 75
- Web 2.0, 22, 104
- WebCT, 41, 104, 148, 153
closed nature of, 42; discussion board, 170
- webfolio, 63
- Webheads, 208

- weblogs, 74
 in L2 composition classroom, 75
- web page design, 105–106
 choice of tools in implementing, 111–112; in L2 composition classroom, 26; need for lab time, 123; in relationship to print-based texts, 119; use of, in composition classroom, 15
- web page designers, 117–118
- web pages, 32, 64
- websites
 concordance, 180; evaluating, as source texts, 124–125; integrating outside, into L2 composition classroom, 106–110
- Well™, 175
- Whiteboards, 137, 143
- Wi-F9, 100
- Wi-Fi, 53–54, 96, 100, 210
 extension of learning environment, 101; growth of, 99
- Wikipedia, 22, 38–40, 108, 148 distinction between minor and major edits, 108*n*; falsification of information on, 127; reputation system and, 126
- wikis, 13, 38, 54
 for peer review, 127
- Wikispaces, 127
- WiMax (Worldwide Interoperability for Microwave Access), 100, 210
- word processing, 49–54
 changes in architecture of, 50; comment feature in, 101, 102, 130; effects of, 1; migration from computer-based programs to Internet-based programs, 54
- WordSmith, 178, 188
- Wozniak, S., 47
- Writeboard™, 54
- Write-Now, 4
- Writer's Workbench, 82
- writing
 academic, 15, 60, 63–64, 84; computer networks and, 55–56; digital, 100–101; integrating, 110–112; Internet and, 56–66; multimodal, 111–112; prewriting stage of, 24; reflective, 164–65; role of culture in, 30; social approach to, 55; technology and, 17, 101–103, 204
- writing spaces
 computer-mediated discourse, 67–72; types of, 54
- Xanadu®, 59
- xiang sheng*, 150
- Yahoo®, 31, 77, 92
- YouTube, 123
- ZOHO Writer, 54