

Contents

---

How to Use This Book	xiii
Introduction to the Third Edition	xv
List of Figures	xvii
Chapter 1: Introduction to Language	1
Preliminaries	1
Exercises	4
Approaches to Language	4
Myth 1: If it's in the dictionary, it's "correct."	13
Exercises	13
Further Readings	17
Chapter 2: The Building Blocks of Language	18
The Sounds of Language	18
Exercises	30
Words and Their Parts	35
Exercises	42
Myth 2: Some languages are more beautiful or systematic than others.	47
The Way Sentences Are Put Together	47
Exercises	59
Beyond the Sentence	64
Exercises	69
Further Readings	70

viii Contents

Chapter 3: Communicating Meaning	72
The Meaning of Words	72
Exercises	78
The Meaning of Sentences	81
Exercises	91
Communicative Competence	95
Exercises	101
Language and Thought	101
Myth 3: Eskimos have a thousand words for snow.	103
Exercises	104
Further Readings	105
Chapter 4: Language Variation	106
Language and Dialect	106
Exercises	109
Dialectology	109
Myth 4: They talk funny there.	115
Exercises	117
The Notion of Standard English	117
Exercises	119
Why Do Dialects Persist?	121
Exercises	122
Further Readings	125
Chapter 5: Language and Social Groups	127
Beyond Dialect: Other Codes	127
Myth 5: Slang is bad grammar.	133
Exercises	133
Social Class	136
Exercises	144
Further Readings	145

Chapter 6: Multilingualism	147
Language Contact	147
Exercises	152
Languages of Wider Communication, Pidgins, and Creoles	152
Myth 6: Some languages don't have grammar.	156
Exercises	159
Language Planning and Policy	161
Exercises	165
Further Readings	167
Chapter 7: African-American Vernacular English	169
Origins of AAVE	170
Exercises	176
A Grammatical Sketch of AAVE	177
Myth 7: AAVE is slang.	181
Exercises	182
AAVE and Education	182
Exercises	184
Hip-Hop Linguistics	184
Exercises	185
Further Readings	187
Chapter 8: Language and Gender	189
Early Studies	189
Exercises	192
Difference and Dominance	194
Myth 8: Gender is hard-wired in the brain.	198
Exercises	198
Current Approaches to Gender and Language	199
Exercises	203
Further Readings	206

X Contents

Chapter 9: First Language Acquisition	208
Three Theories	208
Myth 9: Children learn their first language by imitating their parents.	214
Exercises	215
Early Learning	215
Exercises	218
Learning Words	219
Exercises	222
Learning Grammar	222
Exercises	225
Adding Language	227
Exercises	229
Bilingual Acquisition	229
Exercises	231
Atypical Language Development	232
Exercises	238
Further Readings	239
Chapter 10: Second Language Acquisition	241
What Do Learners Bring to a Second Language?	241
Exercises	243
Myth 10: Children learn a second language faster than adults.	245
Exercises	246
What Else Do Learners Bring to Language Learning?	246
Exercises	248
Processes of SLA	249
Exercises	250
Does Instruction Make a Difference?	251
Exercises	253
Classroom Learning	254
Exercises	256
Further Readings	258

Chapter 11: Historical Linguistics	260
The History of English	261
Myth 11: They speak like Shakespeare in Appalachia.	275
Exercises	276
Diachronic Linguistics	278
Exercises	280
Further Readings	285
Chapter 12: English Grammar	287
The Verb	287
Exercises	293
The Noun	294
Exercises	297
Minor Parts of Speech	297
Exercises	301
Phrase- and Sentence-Level Grammar	303
Myth 12: Language change is language decay.	308
Exercises	309
Further Readings	312
Glossary	313
Bibliography	349
Index	367