

Contents

Introduction: God and the Spanish Director	1
One
Luis Buñuel and the Reinvention of Catholicism	21
Looking Back in Anger: Iconoclastic and Anticlerical Roots	24
Catholicism Reinvented in Later Films	32
Two
The Religious Genre Film and Its Discontents in Francoist Spain	63
History of the Christian Religious Genre Film	64
Preaching to the Converted: Missionaries and Apparitions of Mary	70
Lives of the Saints as Measures of Holiness and Citizenship	82
New Genres and New Wave Directors of the Sixties and Seventies	102
Three
Breaking Boundaries: Post-Franco and Contemporary Directors	111
Variations on a Theme of National Identity: Reclaiming St. Teresa	114
Pedro Almodóvar and the Gathering Storm	123
Postmodern Skepticism versus the Need to Believe	137
Conclusion: Religion and the Spanish Habitus	164
Notes	175
Filmography of Films Discussed in Detail	185
Works Cited	189
Index of Film Titles, Theorists, and Directors	197