

Contents

Why This Book ix

Acknowledgments xi

Chapter 1. An Introduction to Identity and Culture 1

Psychosocial Phenomenon 1

Performance in the Classroom and Overcompensation 2

Learning Perspective from Immigrant Writers:

Introducing Richard Rodriguez 3

Introducing Eva Hoffman 5

Introducing Chang-rae Lee 6

Introducing Amy Tan 8

Sociocultural Factors 9

Culture as Enrichment 11

Chapter 2. The Public and Private Selves 13

Introduction 13

Richard Rodriguez's Hunger for Memory 16

Other Selves 22

The Film Mi Familia 23

Chapter 3. Lost in Translation 28

Introduction 28

Eva Hoffman's Lost in Translation 30

English: Both a Public and a Private Voice 31

Adolescence in a Strange City 33

Immigrant Ambition: The Overachiever 34

Denunciation and Detachment 36

Triangulation of Experience 37

Childhood Identity and Idealization of Home 38

Being Jewish in North America 39

Chapter 4. A Hybrid Feminine Voice	43
Introduction	43
Julia Alvarez's Something to Declare	44
Women as Mentors	50
Communication and Gender	51
 Chapter 5. Immigration and the Generation Gap	 54
Introduction	54
Amy Tan's The Joy Luck Club	55
The Film Joy Luck Club	78
 Chapter 6. Culture, Identity, and Work	 81
Introduction	81
Chang-rae Lee's Native Speaker	83
What's in a Name?	89
Acculturation and Identity through Work or Hobby	91
Stereotyping Asian Students: High Expectations	92
What Is Education?	95
The Asian Stereotype: Model Americans	96
 Chapter 7. Identity, Class, and Race	 97
Introduction	97
The Legacy of Slavery	97
Zora Neale Hurston	98
A Controversial Figure	99
Excerpt from Dust Tracks on a Road	100
Excerpt from I Love Myself When I Am Laughing and Then Again When I Am Looking Mean and Impressive	103
May Stawsky	105
Mark Mathabane's From the Far Side	109
Racism: Where Are We Today?	115
 Chapter 8. The American Identity and Education	 118
What Is an American Identity?	118
Reasons Why Successful Immigrants Succeed	121
Personal Resources	121
Strong Family Ties	121
Language Identity	122

Spiritual or Religious Values	122
Personal Characteristics	122
Positive Role Models	124
Dispelling the Myths	125
Appendix 1: Recommended Readings	129
Appendix 2: Recommended Videos	131
Bibliography	133