

Contents

Introduction	1
1 Anywhere but Here Provincial Literature and the “Miseries of Literary Men”	25
2 Personifying Vernacular Eccentricity Joseph Dennie and the American Lounger	59
3 “Too Much above the Popular Level to Be Well Paid” Edgar Allan Poe, His Peers, and the Rewards of Genius	103
4 An Idle Industry Nathaniel Parker Willis and the Workings of Literary Leisure	154
5 “As Crazy as a Fly in a Drum” The Eccentric Woman Writer	193
Epilogue	248
Notes	257
Index	299